To Whom It May Concern:

I have been dealing with Dennis Hengel of Hometown Enterprises for 12 years. He has contracted approximately six jobs for myself or one of my associated companies Monahan Agency or Monahan Holdings. The value of these jobs has been in excess of one million dollars.

We have found the quality of work performed by his company to be absolutely excellent. If there was ever any minor problems, Dennis was there to correct it very quickly. The sub-contractors used by Hometown were always of the highest quality.

We appreciated the method Dennis used to charge for the job. He would give us an estimate and then work on a cost plus basis. In many cases the job would come in at less than the estimate.

To summarize, Dennis and his company supply quality work in an ethical manner. We would not hesitate to recommend Hometown Enterprises to anyone thinking of a building project.

Yours truly,
